

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A method and composition for treating a patient suffering from a disease, disorder or condition 5 include the administration to the patient of a therapeutically effective amount of a combination of at least two neurotoxins selected from a group consisting of botulinum toxin types A, B, C, D, E, F and G. The amount of each selected neurotoxin administered is further selected to control a duration 10 of therapeutic activity of the administered combination.

100 90 80 70 60 50 40 30 20 10